INTRODUCTION

This year marks the 20th anniversary of Ministry of Women, Family And Community Development (KPWKM). The ministry on 17 January 2001 was announced as a manifestation of the country's aspirations, pursuant to the Fourth World Conference on Women in back Beijing in 1995. Currently, there are five important agencies under the purview of KPWKM namely, the Social Welfare Department of Malaysia, National Population and Family Development Board, Department for Women Development, Social Institute of Malaysia, and Yayasan Kebajikan Negara. It has been a challenging journey for KPWKM in the last two decades and such challenges are likely to heighten further going forward. The recently announced "Keluarga Malaysia" reaffirmed the country's commitment towards a caring and developed society as espoused in many national policies.
